THE END IS NEAR.

End of the Tariff Debate Not Far Off.

But That's No Sign Congress Will Adjourn.

WHITE HOUSE GRASS.

Marine Band Giving Summer Concerts on the Lawn.

WASHINGTON, June 9. - [Special.] -Nearly all the senators who will give an opinion say that the end of the tariff debate is near, and so far as can be judged from current talk the sentiment in the house in favor of accepting the bill as it comes from the senate is growing. It does not follow, however, that adjournment is in sight, for of the 12 appropriation bills sent over to the senate from the house seven have scarcely been but partially considered in committee. Much Work to Be Done.

The house still has the Indian appropriation to deal with and the general deficiency, and there is a great deal of other legislation. Public Printer Benedict urges the necessity for immediate action in regard to the new government printing office, and the committee on public buildings says that if it goes over until the short session there is danger that nothing at all will be done. The five cornered fight on this subject is now in such a complicated shape that it is likely a good deal of time will be consumed on it. The senators in charge of them say that at least two days to each appropriation bill is the least that can be expected of them, so there are the working days of a month provided for.

In addition, there are the Hatch bills to hold up agriculture, several important bills from the commerce committee relating to lighthouses and other aids to navigation, the various bills authorizing bridges over navigable streams, the great big bill codifying all the pension laws, and several others. On top of this we are told that the house will pass a constitutional amendment giving such states as desire it the right to elect senators by popular vote. After all, Champ Clark's prophecy at the beginning may be realized, "We shall see the dog days through these beautifully stained windows."

In Society's Whirl.

"Sasslety" is sad. The season closed some time ago, and yet the unusually cold weather has been unfavorable to the various fashionable summer resorts. Although the announcements of intending departures are numerous, yet nearly all the prominent people and the fashionables remain in Washington and will till late in this month or early in the next. The oft quoted oldest inhabitant says we have had the warmest March, the worst April and the coolest May for 40 years, and the weather prophets add that, following the usual rule of such seasons, there will be intense and almost uninterrupted heat from the third week in June to the same in August.

much besitation and discussion Mrs. Cleveland decided to return to Washington for a few days and then go to Gray Gables. The second day after her return was the anniversary of her marriage, and on that day the Marine band began its series of summer concerts on the White House lawn. The presdent and Mrs. Cleveland, with both the children, were conspicuous in the large window overlooking the lawn, and there was an immense gathering, the wealth and fashion of the city being well represented. In recognition of the day the first pieces rendered were Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." and the enthusiasm shown by the crowd evinced that we can get up as much racket over our temporary president as the "blawsted furriners" do over their hereditary monarchs. Even the little fact that President Cleveland kissed the baby was elaborately set forth in the court column of a local paper. The Summer Exodus.

It is a frequent subject of remark that nearly all those leaving the city have selected quiet minor resorts for the hot weather, one reason assigned being that money is scarce and the other that they have found life more restful at such places. Mrs. Lamont will go the latter part of this month to Secretary Lamont's old home in McGrawville, N. Y., to remain till the latter part of August, after which she and her daughters will travel in the Catskills for a short time. Secretary Herbert returned from his trip to the Pacific coast in time to attend the graduation exercises at the Naval academy and deliver the diplomas to the graduates.

Old Berkeley Springs seems destined to a brilliant revival of the times of Henry Clay and his contemporaries, as a great number of Washingtonians are booked for that place. Two of the foreign legations have taken cottages there, and incidentally the country will be interested in knowing that Hon. Jere Simpson, who is there with his family, is regaining strength and hopes to yet be able to take an active part in the approaching campaign. The last social function of note was the tea given at Calumet Place by Mrs. John A. Logan as a farewell to Major Tucker and lady, who go to the major's new station at St. Paul. The array of officials present began with the Vice President and Mrs. Stevenson and included a great number of senators and their ladies, with diplomats and others. So the books of society are closed for the summer, and now all we have to amuse us are ordinary congressmen and bribery investigations. It has not yet been decided where Messrs. Edwards and Shriver, correspondents, will pass the coming weeks, but if Senator Dolph's views are adopted they will certainly pass them uncomfortably.

The Other Extreme. From the other extreme of society comes a louder wail than usual. When the District officials assured us that no more Coxeyites could get here and neither should they be allowed to stay if they came, we naturally relied upon their promise, but a few little bands have quietly slipped in and not only supplied the places of numerous deserters, but raised Coxey's forces to 500 or more. The newcomers are of quite a different sort from the old set and have made no end of trouble. Our officials continue to as sert that the end is near; that the begging of food which lately amounts to a demand for it is becoming such a nuisance in Hyattsville and vicinity that the county authorities will soon disperse the whole gang.

is that at the best it is a sorry sight. Appeals are being made in the city for food and statements that the industrials are sometimes on the point of starvation. In this city the commissioners have passed an order that after the 11th unskilled laborers employed by the district shall receive but $1 per day, and this, added to the troubles of the hundreds discharged from the gov-ernment employ, makes the situation rather depressing.

NEWS OF KANSAS

Gov. Lewelling Says His Commission Business is Sound,

And the Reports as to Its Insolvency Untrue.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

C. H. J. Taylor to Start a Paper at Washington.

WICHITA, June 9 .- During the past three or four days a report has been in circulation among the Kansas and Missouri valley daily papers to the effect that the commercial interests of Gov. Lewelling in this city were in bad shape, and, in fact, that the firm is insolvent. A reporter for the Eagle called on the governor to learn about his reported financial embarassment. "I saw a screed in a morning paper a few days ago," said he, "purporting to be the facts, and there was not a word of truth in it. Our firm is perfectly solvent, and we are doing a safe and a good business. The fact is, however, that we are trimming our sails a little and not spreading out beyond the limits of our financial capacity to conduct the business on a safe, conservative and profitable basis."

Heretofore, it seems, the firm borrowed money from the banks on warehouse receipts, but as financial matters became stringent, the banks gradually kept trimming their sails likewise and recently declined altogether to advance money on warehouse receipts. It is the general retrenchment incident to this change that has kept Governor Lewelling here continually during the past week.

When asked about the ticket nominated at Topeka by the Republicans he sald that it was a good Republican ticket and suited him to a dot. He said that the nomination of a banker for governor, one who he thinks has no sympathy for the masses, will strengthen the Populist chances. He also thought that so many of the candidates living in the eastern part of the state would be another element of weakness.

WANTS BIG DAMAGES.

Ed. King, an Alleged Coxeylte, Proposes to Sue Leavenworth for $10,000.

LEAVENWORTH, June 9 .- Ed. King, an alleged Coxeyite, who was drummed out of Camp Sanders a few days after Marshal Neely brought the "army" here, and who on the following day was arrested by the police and lodged in the city jail, is now in Kansas City, Kansas, and is mad.

He says he will sue the city of Leavenworth for $10,000 dames for false imprisonment. He claims that members of the Brotherhood of Railway trainmen and the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association wanted to bail him out but Judge Carroll would not accept it. Also that his cousin Barney Munsay, a Rock Island conductor, wanted to pay his fine but the judge said he must serve out his sentence of fifteen days on the rock pile. "I intend to make the city of Learth pay me well for my imprisonment," said he.

COXEXITES GAIN A POINT. The Information Against Union Pacific Train Stealers Was Quashed.

Woods, charged with being a part of the band of Coxey-ites that seized a train on the Union Pacific road that is now being operated by receivers, was taken up in the United States circuit court, Judge W. A. Porter of this city appeared for the defendants and moved that the information of plaintiffs be quashed on the ground of insufficiency. Judge Thomas sustained the motion and District Attorney Perry asked for time in which to file an amendment.
